

Many years of experience Our guarantee of quality

A long tradition in quality

We have achieved our high quality standard not only because of our vast experience or the commitment of our employees, but also because of our collaboration with the local farmers. It is our mission to be the most reliable supplier of potatoes and potato products in Western Europe.

Although the sky is the limit for Pomuni, everyone keeps both feet on the ground and stands behind the product. Our customer's satisfaction gives us the energy to realise our ongoing dedication and constant strive for perfection.

Potatoes
from field to fork

All you need is a potato and a dream

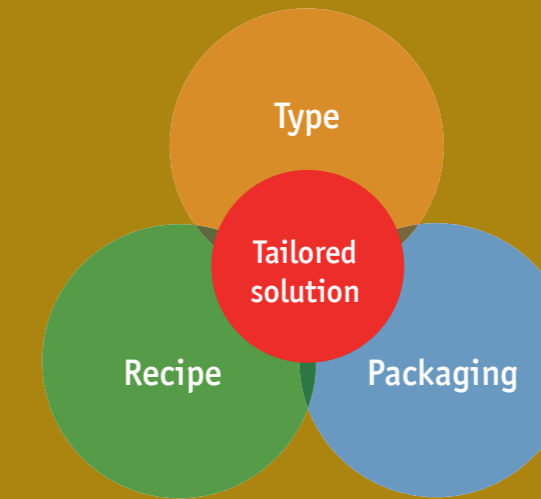

The fresh potato

Pomuni puts the customer first and, because of its know-how and close involvement with the growers, Pomuni is the potato specialist from field to fork. In order to deliver its customers the right potato all year round, Pomuni has developed a concept to supply the right quality, size and packaging anytime. This system not only guarantees certainty, continuity and quality, but it also brings potatoes full of taste on your plate. Each potato is a product of nature, every harvest is different. Therefore it is our job to guarantee quality all year round.

Potato products

Thanks to its year-long experience, Pomuni has gained thorough know-how in processing and preparing potato products. In our tailor-made approach we always start from your demand and the moment of consumption. After that, we look for the right recipe and packaging, whether it is for the retail, food service or industry. This way of working not only gives us delicious potato products, but also guarantees the consistent taste of the product and happy consumers.

Pomuni is a potato supplier that, under private label, provides retailers, wholesalers and food services with fresh and frozen potato products of the highest quality. Pomuni is synonymous with honesty, continuity, decisiveness and passionate expertise. These values are the basis of our mission: realising customer satisfaction through absolute commitment to quality and service.

From 1928 onwards, the name of Muysshondt has always been important in the potato business. Today, the fourth generation is ready to take the lead, together with 225 employees on 3 sites and 4 companies of the Pomuni group. Each year, Pomuni supplies its customers with 200.000 tons of potatoes.

Pomuni's key to success is our integrated approach and our continuous strive for balance between production process, environment and people. The result of this is quality and sustainability. We always go for the best.
